

LONG BIO:

Abhi Golhar is a transformational speaker dedicated to helping leaders, professionals, and organizations overcome limiting beliefs, embrace doubt as a strength, and achieve breakthroughs by "Burning Their Bats." His method encourages others to confront outdated habits and redefine success on their own terms.

A three-time nationally syndicated radio host, Abhi's insights have been featured in Forbes, Inc., and HuffPost. He is well-known for making complex concepts relatable and actionable, whether he's addressing Wall Street trends or leading conversations on personal growth.

Abhi's journey—from facing $1 million in debt in inner-city Detroit during an FBI investigation to becoming a sought-after speaker—illustrates his unwavering belief in resilience and reinvention. His story and strategies are as relatable as they are powerful, making him an engaging choice for audiences who want more than just inspiration—they want transformation.
