

PRONUNCIATION: AH-BEE GOAL-HAR

Have you ever wondered why some clients return again and again while others disappear after a single transaction? The answer is not in more postcards or promotions, but in creating magical moments that clients can't forget.

Today's speaker believes that loyalty, not leads, is the true growth engine. His keynote The Trust Crisis reveals how leaders can blend automation and empathy to engineer experiences that feel personal, memorable, and worth talking about.

He is a nationally recognized speaker, three-time syndicated radio host, and trusted voice featured in Forbes, Inc., and HuffPost. His work has helped thousands of leaders design loyalty loops that multiply referrals, increase retention, and create clients for life.
